

WHY DO HINDUS TRY TO BE GOOD? Knowledge Organiser Terms 1 and 3 Owls

Key Vocabulary
Brahman	Many Hindus believe that there is only one God (Brahman), the deities each symbolise an aspect of Brahman.
Atman	The spark of Brahman within each living creature.
Ahimsa	The idea of non-violence.
Dharma	This means ‘duty’ and Hindus will try to discover what their duty is.
Murti	Representation of one of the Hindu divine beings.
Trimurti	Representation of the three gods Brahma, Vishnu and Shiva.
Samsara	The cycle of birth, death and rebirth in Hinduism.
Moksha	Release from the cycle of samsara where the atman is reunited with Brahman.
Karma	Someone’s positive actions and intentions lead to good karma and leave a positive imprint on a person, but negative actions and intentions lead to bad karma and leave the opposite. Good and bad karma can affect someone in their current life and also affect their lives to come.
Aum	The aum is an important symbol in Hinduism Hindus consider Aum to be the universal name of the Lord and that it encompasses all of creation. Many Hindus consider it to be the first sound when the universe was created.
Ashramas	The four stages of human life.
Mahabharata	A sacred text within Hinduism.

The Aum symbol

The cycle of Samsara

Four stages of life In Hinduism

 Brahmacharya Age 1 year to 25 years Approximately Bachelor, student phase of life	 Grihastha Age 26 year to 50 years Approximately Married life phase and duties of maintaining a Household	 Vanaprastha Age 51 year to 75 years Approximately Retirement phase and handing over responsibilities to next generation.	 Sanyaas Age 76 year onwards Phase of giving up material desires and prejudices. Wandering Ascetic Stage
---	--	--	---

Key Knowledge
	Most Hindus don’t think of Brahman as a being (like the Christian God) who is separate from Creation – Brahman is in every single living thing. The universe was not created by Brahman, it actually is Brahman. A way of understanding this is to think of Brahman as the energy within the universe.
	Many Hindus believe that there are different duties (dharma) that should be performed at each stage of their life (the ashramas). Living according to dharma brings good karma.
	Most Hindus believe that the atman within each living thing is trying to find its way back to Brahman. They try to live well so that in each new rebirth they grow closer to achieving this.
	Gandhi, a famous Hindu, was a lawyer in India who protested against British rule – he wanted India to rule itself. He followed the principle of ahimsa (non-violence), promoting peaceful protest. His wisdom and teachings are often quoted.